SUBJECT: Banks v. Nissan North America, Inc. Case Number 4:11-cv-02022-PJH

This is written acknowledgement that we object to the proposed settlement outlined in Banks v. Nissan North America, Inc. (case number 4:11-cv-02022-PJH).

There are several reasons we object to this settlement.

- If this is a safety issue the suspect unit(s) should be replaced free of charge immediately.
- If the suspect unit(s) in our vehicle prove to be defective, $200 is not enough to purchase the part(s) and have them replaced by a competent automotive technician.
- If mileage is key to the failure of suspect unit(s), our suspect unit(s) should be replaced now (free of charge) due to low accumulated mileage.
- The value of the proposed settlement and the portion paid to the claimants is too low. The lawyers are not entitled to 68.5% of the payout (3,425,000/5,000,000).

We are and have been owners of the 2006 Nissan Titan Crew Cab (w/VDC) VIN# 1N6BA07A96N520694 since the vehicle was brand new. Currently we have approximately 60,000 miles on the vehicle. We have not experienced the problem with the Active Brake Booster and/or VDC Control unit (error code C1179) described in the claim.

Included with this letter is our current Vehicle Registration and insurance information (validates current ownership).

Included too are two (2) versions of the Legal Notice provided by the Settlement Administrator.
